

Professionalism objectives for the Physiology/CTS Course:

1. Demonstrate respect for course faculty and for other students:
Be courteous and professional in your interactions with lecturers, clinicians, patients, and your fellow students.
2. Demonstrate respect for patients:
 - a. Wear your white coat at patient presentations in clinical correlations
 - b. Phrase questions to patients respectfully
3. Demonstrate your ability to work effectively as a team member (reliability/accountability):
 - a. Attend all laboratory sessions (labs).
 - b. Arrive at labs on time.
 - c. Prepare before the labs
 - d. Actively participate in lab exercises and in discussions in lab.
4. Facilitate the learning environment for yourself and for fellow students:
 - a. Engage the faculty in discussions the course lectures, laboratories, and clinical correlations.
 - b. Be professional in posting to the course website newsgroup and in email messages to faculty by considering the tone as well as the content of your questions and messages.
 - c. Prepare for upcoming exams in a timely manner by asking questions well in advance of exams.
5. Demonstrate professionalism in completing online course and faculty evaluations in a thoughtful and constructive fashion.